The right technology is key to selecting your first eCommerce Solution. In general, the first technology you select will most likely be used over the lifetime of your eCommerce business.

Internet Commerce Engine 5 was designed and built to work with reliable Microsoft technology, making it easy to setup and maintain on a daily basis. It uses Microsoft's ASP.net framework 3.5, and is an object oriented product.

Native Support for Microsoft SQL Server® and Exchange Server® are built-in, allowing for easy integration and system setup.

Sales Messenger will send you a message to your phone, or email account alerting you that an order has been placed, and that action is required.

Workflow Automation is a streamlined workflow process that ensures both order and shipping organization with accuracy on a daily basis. The Order Scoreboard will give you a quick glance look at the fulfillment queue, in which you can print fulfillment tickets directly to the warehouse. When order fulfillment is complete, then the order is sent to the shipping department. After packaging, the shipping information is entered back into the system, and an email is sent the customer notifying them that there order is ready to ship.

Blind Shipments are the new trend in today's market. Many merchants now have product shipped directly from the manufacture or distributor to the customer using the merchant's name and address. Our workflow process integrates tightly with blind shipment vendors.

Package Heuristics are built-in to the ship rate calculator, in which we can calculate the mass of the entire order, and break it up into multiple package units for rate submission, for super accurate shipping rate results.
